Day 3. Birding the Sani Pass

From Creighton we had an early morning start with a local guide to ascend the Sani Pass, looking for the multitude of endemic birds on offer. Although the weather was against us with icy winds and intermittent rain, we were not disappointed and saw Buff-streaked Chat, Drakensberg Prinia, Ground Woodpecker, Barratt's Warbler, African Yellow Warbler, Gurney's Sugarbird, Fairy Flycatcher, Drakensberg Siskin, Drakensberg Rockjumper, both Cape and Sentinel Rock Thrush, Jackal Buzzard, Greater Double-collared Sunbird, Malachite Sunbird, and Wailing Cisticola. Barratt's Warblers were particularly vocal and visible, resulting in exceptional sightings of this master skulker.

The high-altitude karroid scrub vegetation in Lesotho produced Sickle-winged Chat and Large-billed Lark, as well as a few Sloggett's vlei rats.

On the way to the Sani Pass and back we were rewarded with birds such as Secretarybird, Southern Bald Ibis, South African Shelduck, Red-necked Spurfowl, Grey Crowned and Blue Cranes, Half-collared Kingfisher, White-throated Swallow, Forest Buzzard, Black Sparrowhawk, and Rufous-breasted Sparrowhawk.

Day 4. Birding Creighton, transfer to Eshowe

Before leaving Creighton for Eshowe, we did some early morning birding in the forests and grasslands of the area. The highlight was seeing a total of 39 Cape Parrots flying past into the Hlabeni forest to feed. This forest also produced Bush Blackcap, Forest Canary, African Olive Pigeon, African Emerald Cuckoo, Cape Batis, Orange Ground Thrush, Knysna Turaco, and Yellow-throated Woodland Warbler, with African Firefinch showing well at the forest edge. A pair of Blue Swallows was seen at the grassland patch, where they breed annually.

After a well-deserved brunch we left for Eshowe, where we arrived in pouring afternoon rain that did not allow for much birding.

Drakensberg Rockjumper

Day 5. Birding Ongoye and Dlinza forests

Fortunately the weather lifted the next morning, and we were eager to bird the regional forests with the help of a local guide. The first forest on our list was Ongoye, a beautiful temperate forest interspersed by rolling grasslands and granite hills. Our main target here was the Green Barbet, which we saw without much effort. Ongoye also produced Yellow-rumped Tinkerbird, Square-tailed Drongo, Crowned Eagle, Fan-tailed Widowbird, Southern Ground Hornbill, and the southern subspecies of the red bush squirrel.

We had lost some time negotiating the treacherous roads at Ongoye, and the rest of the day was spent at the Dlinza forest in Eshowe town. Dlinza did not disappoint, and we managed to find most of our target birds, including Spotted Ground Thrush, Eastern Bronze-naped Pigeon, Narina Trogon, Green Malkoha, Chorister Robin-Chat, Yellow-streaked Greenbul, Black-bellied Starling, Dark-backed Weaver, White-eared Barbet, Trumpeter Hornbill, and Grey Cuckooshrike, as well as the dainty blue duiker.

Gurney's Sugarbird in a Protea tree

Day 6. Birding Mtunzini, Enseleni, and St Lucia

After a leisurely breakfast we traveled to St Lucia with birding stops at the village of Mtunzini and the Enseleni Nature Reserve. The Raffia Palm Nature Monument at Mtunzini was our first stop, and here we added Palm-nut Vulture to our list. At Enseleni we found Black-throated Wattle-eye, but our other target bird, African Finfoot, was less obliging and did not want to show, even after prolonged searching.

After arriving at St Lucia in the late afternoon, we decided to head for the beach to enjoy some fresh sea air and connect with the Indian Ocean. Here we managed to find Grey-headed Gull, White-fronted Plover, Whimbrel, Kittlitz's Plover, African Pied Wagtail, and Rufous-winged Cisticola in the reed beds along the lagoon.

Spotted Ground Thrush

Leopard

Day 7. Birding Cape Vidal

The next morning started very early as we entered the Eastern Shores section of the iSimangaliso Wetland Park, heading towards Cape Vidal for the day. Birding was excellent, and we added Southern Banded Snake Eagle, African Jacana, Collared Pratincole,

Crested Guineafowl, Grey Sunbird, Saddle-billed Stork, Hottentot Teal, African Fish Eagle, African Marsh Harrier, African Pygmy Kingfisher, Yellow-breasted and Rudd's Apalis, Brown Scrub Robin, and Woodward's Batis.

There were also many memorable mammal sightings, including hippopotamus, white and black rhino, warthog, red duiker, common duiker, African buffalo, bushbuck, southern reedbuck, waterbuck, banded mongoose, and Samango monkey, but the undoubted highlight of the day was a pair of leopards in the late afternoon on our way back to St Lucia.

The evening was also eventful, with a hippopotamus grazing the lawn of our hotel at arm's length as we were having supper!

Crested Guineafowl

Day 8. Birding St Lucia and Mkhuze Game Reserve

Before leaving for Mkhuze the next day, we birded the dune forest surrounding St Lucia. Here we found a Livingstone's Turaco busy building a nest and an Eastern Nicator calling loudly from its well-concealed song post.

En route to Mkhuze we stopped at False Bay Park along the western shore of Lake St Lucia, where we recorded Lemon-breasted Canary, Neergaard's Sunbird, Bearded Scrub Robin, Golden-tailed Woodpecker, African Yellow White-eye, and Whiskered Tern.

The Muzi pans and wetlands were alive with birds, and large numbers of both Greater and Lesser Flamingos were present, as well as Ruff, Curlew Sandpiper, Little Stint, Collared Pratincole, Pied Avocet, Pied Kingfisher, and Wire-tailed Swallow.

After entering Mkhuze Game Reserve we were soon rewarded with Pink-throated Twinspot and Black-bellied Bustard.

A night drive was very productive and resulted in good sightings of Western Barn Owl, African Scops Owl, and Fiery-necked Nightjar, as well as nocturnal mammals such as large-spotted genet and white-tailed mongoose. A surprise during the night drive was a young African rock python in the road on our way back to Mantuma Camp.

Day 9. Birding Mkhuze Game Reserve

We left Mantuma Camp very early in the hope of witnessing the bizarre display of the African Broadbill in the sand forest, and we were not disappointed. We found a bird displaying in fairly open forest close to our vehicle, which resulted in the best visibility of the species I have ever witnessed!

Early morning at the kuMasinga hide is always very productive; there was a constant stream of mammals coming down to the water to drink, including white rhino, plains zebra, giraffe, and nyala. There were several birds as well, including Scarlet-chested Sunbird, Yellow-throated Petronia, Yellow-bellied Greenbul, Green Wood Hoopoe, Jacobin Cuckoo, Bearded Woodpecker, Southern Black Tit, Golden-breasted Bunting, Long-billed Crombec, Terrestrial Brownbul, Pink-throated Twinspot, and Gorgeous Bush-Shrike. Back at the camp we found Grey Tit-Flycatcher, Red-fronted Tinkerbird, Crested Guineafowl, and Bearded Scrub Robin.

The afternoon was spent at Nsumo Pan, where we saw African Openbill, Goliath Heron, Great Egret, Little Egret, Squacco Heron, African Spoonbill, Greater and Lesser Flamingos, African Jacana, and Three-banded Plover. KuDiza Pan produced our first African elephant for the trip.

Some other birds seen at Mkhuze were Wahlberg's Eagle, Brown Snake Eagle, African Goshawk, Grey Penduline Tit, Neergaard's Sunbird, Common Scimitarbill, and Narina Trogon.

African Broadbill

Day 10. Transfer to and birding Wakkerstroom

Wakkerstroom was our next destination, and its rolling grassland-covered hills and open wetlands are a stark contrast to Mkhuze's dry woodland. We started off well with Barrow's Korhaan, South African Cliff Swallow, Rufous-naped Lark, Red-capped Lark, Cape Longclaw, Pied Starling, and Ant-eating Chat on the lower altitude plains. A well-wooded gully produced birds such as Olive Bushshrike, Cape Robin-Chat, Black-crowned Tchagra, Black Cuckoo, and Banded Martin flying overhead.

Day 11. Birding Wakkerstroom

The next day was even better, and we managed to get Yellow-breasted Pipit, Rudd's Lark, and Botha's Lark, the target endemics of the area. Other birds seen in the grasslands were Grey Crowned and Blue Cranes, Blue Korhaan, Eastern Long-billed, Pink-billed, Spike-heeled, and Eastern Clapper Larks, Grey-winged Francolin, Common Quail, Black-winged Lapwing, Southern Bald Ibis, Mountain Wheatear, Buff-streaked Chat, Spotted Thick-knee, Secretarybird, Black-winged Kite, Long-tailed Widowbird, and Cape Crow. The mammal highlight of the grasslands was a very inquisitive clan of meerkats. The wetlands surrounding Wakkerstroom produced African Snipe, African Rail, Red-chested Flufftail, Malachite Kingfisher, African Reed Warbler, Levallant's Cisticola, and Cape Weaver.

Pink-billed Lark

Meerkats

Day 12. Transfer to and birding Kruger National Park

After Wakkerstroom we headed to the Kruger National Park, eagerly anticipating a wealth of bird and mammal sightings. We were based in the southern section of the park, and our first afternoon in the Berg-en-Dal rest camp and surrounding area produced birds such as Greater Blue-eared Starling, Grey-headed Bushshrike, Magpie Shrike, White-browed Robin-Chat, Lilac-breasted Roller, Southern Red-billed Hornbill, African Grey Hornbill,

African Hoopoe, White-fronted Bee-eater, Levallant's Cuckoo, and Red-billed Buffalo Weaver.

Day 13. Birding Kruger National Park

An early start the next morning was rewarded with first two white rhino, then a fabulous male lion in the road, and not long after that a group of four spotted hyenas galloping past us towards the lion. What a way to start the day!

Birding was excellent as expected and included Striated Heron, Woolly-necked Stork, Saddle-billed Stork, White-backed Vulture, Bateleur, African Harrier-Hawk, Dark Chanting Goshawk, Coqui Francolin, Red-crested Korhaan, Temminck's Courser, African Green Pigeon, Brown-headed Parrot, Giant Kingfisher, Grey-rumped Swallow, Arrow-marked Babbler, Red-faced Cisticola, Southern White-crowned Shrike, White-crested and Retz's Helmetshrikes, Burchell's Starling, Red-billed Oxpecker, Lesser Masked-Weaver, Red-headed Weaver, and Green-winged Pytilia.

On our way to Pretoriuskop rest camp late in the afternoon the highlight of the day presented itself in the form of a cheetah mother with two cubs. What a way to end the day!

Spotted hyena

Day 14. Kruger National Park to Dullstroom, birding on the way

The next morning we were sad to leave the park, but not before we added Mocking Cliff Chat, Striped Kingfisher, Black Saw-wing, Pale Flycatcher, Groundscraper Thrush, Flappet Lark, and African Cuckoo-Hawk to our list.

Our next stop was Dullstroom via the Drakensberg escarpment. The route took us past the Blyde River Canyon Nature Reserve, where we stopped to take in its breathtaking vistas and added Lazy Cisticola and Lanner Falcon to our list while doing so.

The nearby site for Taita Falcon was unfortunately deserted, but we managed to find Cape Vulture, Alpine and African Black Swifts, Rock Martin, Red-winged Starling, and another African Cuckoo-Hawk.

It was late in the afternoon as we entered Dullstroom to search for Cape Eagle-Owl at its regular roost, but we had to abandon our plans as a massive hailstorm broke loose. Fortunately we were rewarded with Red-winged Francolin for our efforts.

Oribi

Day 15. Birding the Zaagkuil drift Road

The next morning we birded the high altitude grasslands around Dullstroom and found now familiar birds such as Yellow-breasted Pipit, Eastern Long-billed Lark, Sentinel Rock-Thrush, Cape Longclaw, and Cape Vulture again. A new mammal for the trip was a very obliging pair of oribi.

We then headed westwards to the Rust de Winter area, north of Pretoria, in search of Kalahari birds at the eastern edge of their distribution range, where we decided to bird the legendary Zaagkuil drift Road in the afternoon. Our timing could not have been better, as there was an emergence of termite alates all along the road, which resulted in hundreds if not thousands of birds of several species feasting on the bounty. These included Northern Black Korhaan, Wahlberg's Eagle, Steppe Buzzard, Pale Chanting Goshawk, Yellow-billed Kite, Black-winged Kite, Natal and Swainson's Spurfowls, Helmeted Guineafowl, Grey Go-away-bird, Brown-hooded Kingfisher, Southern Yellow-billed Hornbill, Pearl-breasted Swallow, Southern Pied Babbler, Kalahari Scrub Robin, Black-chested Prinia, Spotted and Marico Flycatchers, Crimson-breasted and Lesser Grey Shrikes, Cape Starling, Wattled Starling, White-browed Sparrow-Weaver, Red-billed Quelea, and White-winged Widowbird.

Our lodge and its surrounding Acacia woodland produced Black-throated Canary, Marico Sunbird, Yellow-fronted Tinkerbird, Klaas's Cuckoo, Diederik Cuckoo, Burnt-necked Eremomela, Long-billed Crombec, and Bearded Woodpecker.

We also had good sightings of night birds such as Spotted Eagle-Owl, Pearl-spotted Owlet, and Rufous-cheeked Nightjar.

This final evening we celebrated all the good times and birds of the trip with a traditional South African barbecue under clear and star-filled African skies.
